DAY OF MINDFULNESS PRACTICE

Sunday 25th June, 2017, 10:00 to 16:00, Cost £25

Free to those people currently on the April - June 2017 MBCT Mandala course – book a place

These Days of Mindfulness are for people who have completed an 8-week mindfulness-based course OR are currently on an 8-week course. The intention is to provide a day of practice, guided by experienced mindfulness teachers, where participants can deepen their practice and experience of learning mindfulness. The Day is a silent day for participants, a time to drop into being with our experience without usual conversation and chatter to distract us from our present moment experience.

Previous course participants have commented that initially they were very apprehensive about the silent aspect of the Day of Mindfulness but afterwards commented on the powerful nature of this day in helping integrate mindfulness into their lives.

Other participants regularly attend these Days of Mindfulness and describe how it helps them to maintain their daily practice and to deepen their own experience of moment to moment awareness.
